MRS. MARSH INJURED

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh, 113 North Central avenue, was the victim of an auto accident Sunday afternoon while on her way home from church. Mrs. Marsh was driving her horse south on Brand. When near Palmer avenue she heard a car coming behind her and pulled over as near as possible to the curb to get out of the way. Just then the car tried to pass her between her buggy and the curb, striking the buggy squarely smashing the vehicle and throwing Mrs. Marsh to the ground. The Ford car, which was occupied by three young men, E. A. Roche, J. A. Ritter and Carl Witting, turned turtle and skidded for several feet after turning over. The occupants were not injured. Mrs. Marsh was taken into the Ingraham home near by, where Dr. Duncan was called. He found that no bones were broken, but she was very severely bruised and sustained a severe nervous shock. Mrs. D. H. Imler and Miss Cora Hickman were summoned as soon as the accident occured and helped care for Mrs. Marsh who was removed to her home and is recovering slowly from the shock she received.

Officer Garwood arrested the three boys, who appeared before Judge Lowe Monday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge made against them, and the judge took the case under advisement.

Owing to war conditions, the students of Occidental College will not enjoy the annual spring recess this year. The College term will end two weeks earlier than usual.

"JENSEN'S UNIVERSITY"

By Walt Le Noir Church
State Organizer of "The Californian"

"Jensen's University", otherwise known as "The New Palace Grand", will have a grand opening Thursday, April 4th. The new improvements, both practical and artistic will keep Glendale's beautiful theatre in the front rank of picture houses for some time to come. Since that building was erected, wonderful progress has been made in the moving picture business—not only pictures and picture houses,—but the way pictures are screened are far in advance of even Edison's first dreams. The Palace Grand has been brought right up to date and will be second to none in the country. Two new conveniences will greatly please the public. First is the large automobile parking area in the open lot adjoining the theatre on the North. Second is the spacious balcony whose extensive seating capacity will be a blessing to many who prefer to look down on a picture—rather than up—or on a level. That big balcony will be a godsend to movie fans with weak eyes. Those who know would rather sit there than in the choicest seats elsewhere. Besides, Palace Grand pictures do not "flicker".

At the grand opening, Thursday, April 4th, the Comedy will be "The Bell Boy". Just imagine the fun "Fatty" Arbuckle will make as "The Bell Boy". Do not see him if you can be injured by much laughter—or if uproarious applause by the audience will hurt your feelings.

But the greatest feature of that great entertainment will be Glendale's own "Little Mary Pickford"—Strange how every audience feels that she is really and truly "Our Little Mary". Many were so delighted in "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley" in the Glendale Union High School, staged by the seniors of 1917, will be charmed to see it acted on the screen by her who wins the hearts of all.

P. E. O. MEETING

Last Friday Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O. held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. E. F. Tholen, of Brand and Tenth streets. Mrs. Tholen was the hostess for the day, and she was assisted by Mesdames Andrew Stephenson, Ludden and Lynch. A luncheon was served, after which an interesting program was rendered, which was in charge of Mrs. Tholen and Mrs. Lynch. During the business session delegates were elected to represent the Chapter at the State P. E. O. Convention, which is to be held at Orange.

NEWCOMB-MARLATT WEDDING

A very pretty but a very simple home wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Newcomb at 320 Everett street, this city, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when their daughter, Maybell Newcomb, became the bride of Eldred H. Marlatt, son of Mrs. B. L. Cline of 420 West Ninth street. Only members of the families of the contracting parties were present, Rev. B. D. Snudden officiating. Immediately following the ceremony the young people left for a wedding journey, and on their return they will make their permanent home in Glendale.

Some of our editorials are like Jackass Brandy—they have got a "kick" to them!

A man said the other day that he would vote for Joe Griffin, candidate for City Clerk, but that he had known his opponent, Mr. Sherer, for fifteen years, and would vote for him. But, he said, Mr. Griffin is the best man for the job. This man's logic is all wrong, for if he thinks that Mr. Griffin is the best man for the job, and votes for another, he jeopardizes the best interests of 15,000 people—and just because he has known the other man for fifteen years.

WHY?

Our friend, Kirk, of the Greater Glendale Campaign Committee, rushed into print again last week and used almost a column of space in one of the local papers, urging his favorites on the people. It looks very interesting, and it makes us ask, Why?

Why is it necessary for the Greater Campaign Committee of which Mr. Kirk seems to be the spokesman, to make such frantic efforts and appeals? Mr. Thompson is a veritable statesman, according to this letter, and is surely wasting his time and abilities on such a small office. He ought to be in the U. S. Senate.

To be frank about it, we have lived here all during Thompson's "regime" and so far we have failed to see any very brilliant action on his part—Mellish, Silvius, Henry or Grist,—are as equally capable, and prehaps might even do better.

Why keep one man in office indefinitely? Why not give equally honest and capable men a chance?

Easy to buy, convenient to handle, no red tape—Get a WAR-SAVING STAMP to-day.

APPRECIATION

The following letter is from the United States Government, War Savings Committee, and speaks for itself:

March 19, 1918

Editors, Tropico Herald,
Tropico, Cal.
Gentlemen:

The Tropico Herald of March 16th has just come to my desk, and I want to express the sincere appreciation of the War Savings Committee for the splendid work you are doing in this important campaign.

The cover page is decidely attractive and will surely do much in promoting the sale of Thrift Stamps among your readers.

Cordially yours,
(Signed) ELEANOR GERMO,
Director of Publicity.

ANOTHER SHIP INDUSTRY TO SETTLE AT HARBOR

Another big ship industry was added to the Los Angeles harbor when the harbor commission granted a permit to the National Engineering company to use shed No. 2, Pier A. Wilmington, for fitting wooden ships with engines and boilers, for the government.

The wooden ships will be built in northern shipyards and will be fitted at the Los Angeles Harbor.

Four ships will be fitted at once and others will be received as rapidly as they can be turned out by the northern shipyards.

The industry will require the services of hundreds of men. The dock will be under United States supervision.

Lest all days to come be soulless and spineless.

DO YOU BEGRUDGE YOUR SUPPORT TO THE HERALD

Some people in this community do not believe in newspapers, and think everything can be done for the people without them, and when they give a dollar for a subscription or an advertisement, they put it down as a donation to charity—to help the editor along—and keep him from starving—(he will probably do that anyway.)

These people overlook the continuous service the newspaper renders the community, where it is, in a way, a continuous advertisement.

It is admitted by the government it could not put over war loans, red cross subscriptions or food conservation without the newspapers.

Ordinarily, the newspaper does more for a town and gets less than any other enterprise. It is the purpose of every newspaper to do its best in building up the community. If it succeeds, everybody received benefits, especially certain enterprises and institutions. The Tropico Herald, in keeping with this policy, will work hard and diligently for the betterment of this community.

The Herald is not dictated to by any "highbrows", it is not tied hand and foot by any Board of Trustees, and it is not "bought over" by any corporation who has interests in this community. It is absolutely independent, and will serve the interests of the people in this community. We want your support. You can help us by subscribing, which will only cost you one dollar a year—less than two cents a week. Phone Glendale 1500 and tell us to enter your name on our list, or give your subscription to one of our solicitors when they call on you. In return for your support we will endeavor to give you all the news of this community, and be a champion for YOUR rights. Can you invest a dollar to better advantage?

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

Enthusiastic Meeting Held At High School Thursday Night

The most patriotic, stirring, and enthusiastic meeting ever occuring in Glendale was held at the High School Auditorium, Thursday night. One glance over the audience was sufficient to show that Glendale is awake to the realities of this war. That they are ready, willing and going to do their part to insure victory in this war.

This was no entertainment, it was no social, it was a meeting devoted entirely to the grim realities and duties of war. The fact that over 600 people were there, completely filling the Auditorium was evidence that our people are vitally interested in the successful conduct of this war for Liberty.

All formalities were dispensed with. Rev. Edmonds in a few well chosen words introduced one of the speakers of the evening, Mr. J. B. Coultson, President of the National Bank of Pasadena, and Vice-Chairman of the Third Liberty Loan Committee for California.

Mr. Coultson is devoting his entire time to war work. Part of his duties are to help organize strong capable committees to handle this work and to see that they and the public know what is expected of them. He is filled up with facts and figures as to what this country has done, is now doing, and is going to do. He drives these facts home with force. No man who hears his talk will question the sincerity and rapidity with which Uncle Sam has attacked this enormous job.

He spoke of the gigantic terms in which we must think, where it used to be millions its now billions. All the ammunition used in the Boer War would last our armies just one week. That used in the Russo-Japan war would last one month. In sixty days they shoot up the equivalent of all the ammunition used in the entire Civil war.

He vividly described what we had to do in France, to prepare for the American forces. They found every port in France blocked with shipping. They had to take what was once a port and was then a marsh; dredge it and build a harbor that the largest vessel afloat could anchor in. They built 228 miles of railroad in the yards alone to accommodate 2500 cars, with 3000 more on the switches. They can handle 37,000 tons of shipping every day. A railroad 600 miles long double tracked had to be built to the American front. Every rail, tie, spike, etc., coming from the United States. One thousand hospitals are built along this line. There are acres of warehouses, one of them being six and one-half miles long and two and one-half miles wide. Fourteen hundred General Electric trucks operate on its floors.

Another port has been built south of this and a third is under construction. We now have 1000 miles of railroad in France.

He told how the 109 German ships taken over at the beginning of the war with every conceivable damage done to their machinery were put in order. April 6th, 1917, is the date they were taken. On Dec. 10, 1917, every one of these ships was in service, carrying 60,000 troops per month to France.

These are just a few of the things Mr. Coultson told about. During his talk, the Casa Verdugo Home Guards in uniform and bearing the American flag were ushered in.

The main speaker of the evening was then introduced. Mr. Leslie M. Shaw, Ex-Secretary to the Treasury of the U. S. Mr. Shaw is too well known to

U. S. TO TRAIN OFFICERS AT POMONA COLLEGE

By recent orders from the War Department the United States government has just established a Reserve Officers Training Corps at Pomona College and detailed Major C. B. Vogdes as professor of Military Science and Tactics.

The student cadets are in the Federal service but cannot be ordered into the army unless they formally enlist or are drafted in the usual way. Their status is similar to that of the cadets at West Point. If sufficiently advanced when drafted they will be sent directly to the Officers Training School for intensive training instead of into the ranks, but in any case will receive a fair recommendation for all work accomplished.

RED CROSS NOTES

The Field Inspector from the Los Angeles Chapter was present Monday afternoon at the Surgical Dressings Class, and pronounced conditions in the local auxiliary as being perfect for surgical dressings work. Sixteen ladies were present at the class, and nearly 400 4x8 compresses were made.

Mrs. Leigh Bancroft spent Thursday visiting several of the auxiliaries of the Los Angeles Chapter, and she reports that the Local Auxiliary compares very favorably with any one of those she visited in the amount and quality of work being turned out.

The Local Auxiliary announces that in the very near future they will give a Chop Suey Supper, and to be sure and watch for the date, which will be announced in the Herald later.

Quite a little favorable comment has been given to seven comfort bags turned in at the Red Cross by Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, the workmanship being excellent. Mrs. Stephenson got the material from headquarters and made the bags at home.

The first all-day meeting of the Red Cross was held Wednesday, with Mrs. Davenport in charge of the Sewing section. Luncheon was served at twelve o'clock. Fourteen members were present, who were; Mesdames Davenport, Garden, Ingraham, Bullis, Bancroft, White, Collage, Hibbert, Saunders, Friedgen, Rifenberick, Kopp, Ayres and Bacon.

The committee for Red Cross Food Sales in the district from Palmer to Ninth Street and Central to the eastern city limits, announces that a sale will be held on election day, April 8th, in the store which will be next door to the polling place at Brand and Park avenues, and that a hot luncheon will be served in connection with the sale.

The price of the hot luncheon will be twenty-five cents, and it will be served from eleven to two o'clock. A good menu is being prepared by the committee in charge, and you are assured of getting a good lunch for a quarter. Everybody who can should eat there that day, for all the proceeds go to a good cause—the Red Cross.

Old clothes are wanted by the Auxiliary for the Belgiums.

require an introduction as was attested to by his many friends from Iowa.

He is a finished orator. His talk was filled with grim humor and pathos that touched the hearts of all. It is impossible to attempt to report his talk; any such attempt could not do it justice. It is sufficient to say that every man, woman and child knows and realizes the seriousness of this conflict. That it calls for the combined unified support of all for us to win. That when we are called upon to subscribe to the Third United States Liberty Loan, we will consider it a pleasure to pledge every dollar we possess, if necessary.

AT THE PALACE GRAND

An all-star week might be a good way to describe the program at the Palace Grand Theatre for the week starting to-day, Saturday, March 30. Every picture is featured by players well known to all and each one of them bears the distinction of being the favorite of big numbers of admirers.

Starting with the Matinee today at 2:30 and continuing through the two evening shows at 6:45 and 8:45, will be another screen sensation of mystery, love and laughter, starring the wide-world favorite, Mabel Normand, in a great big smashing comedy adventure, "The Floor Below".. This picture is filled with wonderful suspense and excitement and keeps its big secret till the last minute. In addition will be a Harold Loyd (Luke) cemedy, "Look Pleasant", and Bruce's Wonderful Out-Door pictures.

On Sunday, March 31,will be shown the screen's greatest dramatic actress, wistful Mae Marsh in "The Beloved Traitor", the story of the good girl who whipped the vampire. Not a war picture. This is one of Mae Marsh's greatest triumphs. Also a 2-reel Mack Sennett comedy, "Sheriff Nell's Tussle.." This is very funny and will round the day off 'just right' for you with a big laugh. Shows commence with the matinee at 2:30 and two evening shows at 6:45 and 8:45.

"The Crookedest Man in the World" will be at the Palace Grand on Monday, April 1. He has been there before and you were all highly pleased with his appearance. Herbert Rawlinson is the man and he will appear in a dashing melodrama "The Flash of Fate". This picture will prove a great sensation. Also the World's latest events by Hearst Pathe News Pictorial. There is no matinee today, but two evening shows beginning at 7:15 and 8:45.

You will all want to see "Exile" that Paramount picture featuring the wonderful, Mme. Petrova. Have you ever seen her? If not do not miss this opportunity. She is one of the finest emotional actresses of the present day. In addition will be shown the Christie Comedy, "Who's Wife?"

A surprise is in store for you Wednesday, April 3 for those who call Miss Enid Bennett their favorite screen actress. You've wondered where she was, haven't you? Well here she is back again in an exciting drama of the copper country, "The Keys of the Righteous"; full of tense situations with a pippin of a climax. Also Paramount Pictograph and Cartoon Comedy. Two evening shows

On Thursday, April 4, you can gratify that curiosity which has had you in its grip for so many weeks, for who hasn't wanted to see that new balcony that is at last completed and which places the Palace Grand Theatre on the par with the best of the city houses and a distinct pride to the people of Glendale. On and after this date there will be a daily matinee, in addition to the two evening shows. For today, for the grand opening, who would be more appropriate than our own little Mary Pickford. She will appear in the Artcraft picture, "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley" a story well known in Glendale. Also Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, in his latest and greatest two-reel comedy, "The Bell Boy". Remember the matinee at 2:30 and two evening shows at 7 and 8:45.

The charming little Vivian Martin will appear in a great little picture, "The Fair Barbarian" on Friday, April 5. Also Burton Holmes Travels and one reel of good comedy. Matinee, 2:30.

THE CALIFORNIAN'S

Glendale, Calif.
March 27, 1918

Editor of the Tropico Herald:—

Today was received the first letter to "The Californians", from a writer who must have seen last week's Tropico Herald, because he repeated the error, which was an oversight of mine, in the name of the paper with a future, calling it "The Californian", instead of "The Californians."

From the Lord and Thomas Newspaper Directory, I find several papers are named "The Californian", but this is the only publication known to the Editor bearing the proud title, "The Californians". May it not be very long before every reader in the Empire State of the Pacific will know and love "The Californians", the one monthly publication devoted exclusively to the mutual interests of all loyal sons and daughters of California, whether native or adopted.

May they also realize its mission as the official organ of the new state-wide association bearing the same honorable name "The Californians".

This afternoon, another prominent newspaper man asked the same question you propounded this morning. In substance: "Will the Californians have any political bias?"
I answered—

"It is my intention and hope that it never shall have"—

"But, Mr. Church, from the nature of such a publication, devoted solely to state-wide interests, it is likely that "The Californians" will in time have a very large circulation—

Then in some hotly fought political campaign, it might become a great temptation to side with one party or the other"

"That may be true some day" I replied, "But in such stress may the Editor of "The Californians" not be like Pat who confessed: "Howly Father—it do look loike Oi kin raysist anything but timpta-a-shun-"

WALT LE NOIR CHURCH,
Editor of "The Californians".

Note:—That first letter received for publication by "The Californians" is from the U. S. Treasury Department. "The Californians" will gladly do its loyal bit.

East Indian Magic.

A traveler tells a story of Indian magic. The juggler was a Malay who stroked with his fingers the blade of a long knife or creese. The observer saw water fall drop by drop from the blade, which became flaccid, like a strip of india rubber. Thrown on the ground, it bounced about, but was a knife blade again when lifted by the juggler. An examination showed that there was no water on the mat on which the observer saw the drops fall-

WHY WE SENT OUR WHEAT TO EUROPE.

No question is more frequently asked than why we send wheat to Europe and stint our own people. The first answer is that we send to furnish a foundation for the mixed cereal bread that the Allies have eaten for three years and a half, and to supply them with a straight wheat bread. We are now eating Victory Bread, a bread that calls for only 20 per cent wheat substitute, while Europe, since the outbreak of the war, has eaten a war bread which contains from 25 to 50 per cent substitute. They are asking us for wheat enough to make this war bread.

Wheat flour is the only known foundation for a bakery loaf. Corn meal and buckwheat can be used in making cornbread and batter cakes, but these breads cannot be looked on as bakery products as they will not stand 24 hours' handling between the oven and the table. American women who do their own baking can make good use of cornmeal, rice and oatmeal, but wherever women work in factories or long hours in the field, whether in America or Europe, bakery bread must be within their reach.

Dr. Alonzo Taylor, representative of the United States Food Administration at the recent Allied Conference in Paris, and an expert on the food needs of the world, answers the question in this way:

"We receive many letters at Washington as to why we want to send so much wheat to Europe when we are told that corn, oatmeal, rice and barley and rye are just as good. They ask, 'Why don't we keep the wheat and send them the corn and rye and barley and rice?' I will answer that: We want to send wheat to Europe because you can make bread of wheat, and you can't make bread out of rice and oats and corn. And nobody bakes domestic bread in Europe. You can go to any town in France and you will find that there are no individual bakers there. There will be employed probably two or three men in one place, who will have one large hearth, who will be able to bake 2,000 loaves of bread together, with a minimum amount of coal.

"Please remember that the coal in France today is $110 to $135 per ton, and they have a good coal supply this year.

"The bread is delivered to the home; and this is one-half of the diet of that home. It was in peace time and it is now. In peace times there was considerable sugar, and dairy products were plentiful. Now these things are scarce and the bread largely takes the place of these foods.

"Just visualize an American woman saying: 'If the corn, rye, oatmeal and barley are just as good, I will accept the wheat and send the wheat substitutes to Europe.' Remember that bread is made from wheat.

"How much work is it for her to prepare rice or oatmeal or make corn bread? How much of a burden does it impose upon the overtime of the American woman today, either with or without servants? Very little. But it is a burden to a French woman, who is working sixteen hours a day and taking care of a maimed soldier, or a tubercular person, to deliberately put an hour or an hour and a half on her a day at boiling rice or making cornbread. Shall we put this burden upon her? This is the concrete situation."

No Substitutes for Milk.

The U. S. Food Administration emphasizes that it has never advised the public to decrease whole milk consumption or attempt to substitute other foods for milk This statement is issued to make clear that the effort to stop the waste of milk is in no way aimed at reduced consumption.

If you run your household on three pounds of sugar a month per person, when fall comes the grocer won't have to hang up the sign, "No Sugar."

"The Allies are all in the same boat, a long way from shore and on a limited rations"—and Uncle Sam is running the relief ship.

Only a slacker could stand idly on the sidewalk and criticize as the army of workers marches by.

Uncle Sam is in a race against Germany for ships and food—are you with him?

Conservation, concentration, and consecration—for the sake of those at the front.

It doesn't matter who started this war, Uncle Sam will finish it.

We must meet sacrifice at the front with sacrifice at home.

Food will win the war—produce it.
